

Who's living on my land?

FREE "Who's living on my land?" and Land for Wildlife Workshop

26th Aug 2017, 9am to 4pm • Cobargo

Workshop details

When: 26th August 2017, 9am to 4pm
Morning tea and lunch provided.

Where: Cobargo Farm, Corner of Bermagui-Cobargo Rd and Avernus St, Cobargo

Registration Essential

RSVP: Please register by the 24th of August at whoslivingonmyland.org/cobargo or call 9299 0000

Conservation on private land can make a huge difference to the environment! Come to our free workshop in Cobargo and you can learn about:

- How to survey your land for native and pest animals with infrared cameras, with an opportunity to borrow a camera
- Landscape connectivity and how private landholders can contribute to conservation through the 'Land for Wildlife' project
- Local bush tucker and sustainable land management

We will have local produce for sale on the day: organic vegetables and meat from Cobargo Farm, local honey, bread and endemic plants.

Bush Tucker Photo Katelyn Farrell

Opportunity to borrow infrared camera